

OWNER SPOTS RING ON STRANGER'S HAND

Stolen Property Was Serving as Girl's Engagement Gift.

HAD LOOKED FOR WEEKS

Fiance Tells Police He Bought
It, but His Arrest
Follows.

Jennie Tracona, who is 17 years old and lives at 459 Grand street, Brooklyn, was strolling along the sidewalk near her home last night with Cone Dello, a young man whom she expected to marry—and may yet. On her engagement finger was a three cluster diamond ring.

A gleam from the ring caught the eye of Mrs. Annie Jackarouse, who has been spending a lot of her time watching for just such a gleam since July 2, when the apartment of her brother, Peter Giannara, 88 Havemeyer street, was robbed of about $2,000 worth of jewelry. For a month, she told the police, she has been watching the fingers of people who passed and has stood for hours in front of pawnshop windows hoping to find some of the stolen jewelry.

Seeing that the ring on Miss Tracona's finger had a familiar design and light about it, Mrs. Jackarouse went to the Bedford avenue station, only a short distance away, and brought back with her Detective Joseph Miller and Luke McDermott. They took Cone Dello and the girl to the station. The girl was bewildered. She said Dello gave her the ring when they became engaged.

Dello was confused at that. Then he explained, looking sideways at Miss Tracona all the while, that he had purchased the ring from a stranger at such a ridiculously low figure that, although he thought something must be wrong, he considered it a wonderful bargain and just the thing for Miss Tracona's finger. Despite this explanation Dello was charged with burglary.

"That ring was worth $900," said Mrs. Jackarouse. "Sooner or later I will find the two other rings and the diamond stickpin and the gold watch and chain."

LORD AUCKLAND HALES
GIBSON BEFORE SWANN

Broadway Habitué Denies False Pretences Charge.

William H. Gibson, known up and down Broadway, was summoned to the District Attorney's office yesterday in answer to a complaint against him by Mrs. Wendell Phillips and Lord Auckland of the Carry-On Association. They said that Gibson claimed to represent the "National League for Disabled and Crippled Soldiers," of which he stated Mrs. O. H. P. Hoyt is chairman and treasurer.

Gibson denied he had solicited funds or made the representations alleged. Mrs. Phillips said that on last Saturday night Gibson appeared at a dance at the Smallwood Lodge, Glen Head, L. I., to collect money for Fox Hills Hospital and that he raffled off a dog. It was said that Mae Murray, motion picture actress, helped Gibson in the belief that the money she gave him was for disabled soldiers. District Attorney Swann was unable to locate "Mrs. Hoyt."

DENIES MAKING STATEMENT.
H. C. Messervy, manager of the commercial department of the Timely Service Society, Inc., 132 Nassau street, denied yesterday that any statement was made by him in connection with a hearing in Yorkville Court of charges against three young women solicitors for the organization, that the society has thirty chorus girls collecting funds or that these young women brought in as much as $200 each in a day.

PARSONAGE ON WHEELS

Rev. A. G. Tippetts Seeks Place to Continue His Work.

The Rev. Arthur G. Tippetts of Odessa, Del., and his wife and two children arrived in Jersey City yesterday in their parsonage built on an automobile truck and packed his room on Mallory avenue near the Lincoln Highway and the Hudson county West Side Park.

The parsonage has two rooms, a living room and a bedroom and on the rear a platform covered by an awning from which Mr. Tippetts preaches. He said he was looking for the right kind of a place in New York or Brooklyn in which to continue the religious campaign in which he has been engaged in an itinerant way for many years.

WAR VETERAN KILLS SELF.

Illness Causes Him to Fire Bullet Through Head.

After he had been discharged from a hospital in Kingsbridge, James Mackin, 26, a veteran of the Fifty-seventh Field Artillery, went to the home of his brother, William, at 234 East Forty-second street, according to the police report, and turned on the gas. He was found dead, however, with a bullet wound in the head and a revolver beside him, the police said. Mackin had been under treatment for tuberculosis.

In notes left to his brother and sister he said his long sickness had made him indifferent to life and he did not believe he could stand any more suffering.

HURT IN TROLLEY COLLISION.

A rear end smashup of two surface cars of the Union Railways Company, at Westchester and Evergreen avenues, The Bronx, yesterday, caused injuries to ten persons of whom two, Joseph Metola, 60, of 186 Lincoln avenue, and Herman Dietrickson, 19, 1303 Leland avenue, were taken to Fordham Hospital. Metola's head was bruised badly and Dietrickson had both legs injured.
